

LOVELAND COLORADO

A neighborhood consisting of single-family houses available for rent, covering an area of 25.85 acres.

Purchased January 2023

Council approves Loveland's first clustered housing development zoning

- Kentro said it would build between 169 and 195 single-family detached homes and duplex units, with a clubhouse with pool and gym. A property manager would handle maintenance, including mowing, snow removal, and building maintenance.
-
- Loveland's first clustered housing development received nods of approval from the City Council Tuesday night. The developer would need to amend the comprehensive plan and rezone the property to a planned unit development property.